Founder

John Munro

John Munro brings a compassionate and experienced voice to First Base Interventions.

For two years, John worked as an admissions manager at a leading rehab facility in Thailand, where he helped countless individuals find their way to recovery.

Drawing on that experience, he founded First Base Interventions to offer a global approach.

John's mission is simple: to guide each client toward the best path for their unique needs, whether that's addiction treatment or holistic wellness.

Rehab Process

At First Base Interventions, we recognize that not every individual seeking help is struggling with addiction alone. Many people need guidance to find holistic wellness retreats that address issues like stress, anxiety, PTSD, or sleep challenges.

When It's About Addiction

It's all about understanding where someone is in their journey. Every situation is unique—some need structured rehab, others a wellness-focused retreat. Our goal is to guide you to the right path so you or your loved one gets the best care at the right time.

When It's About Wellness

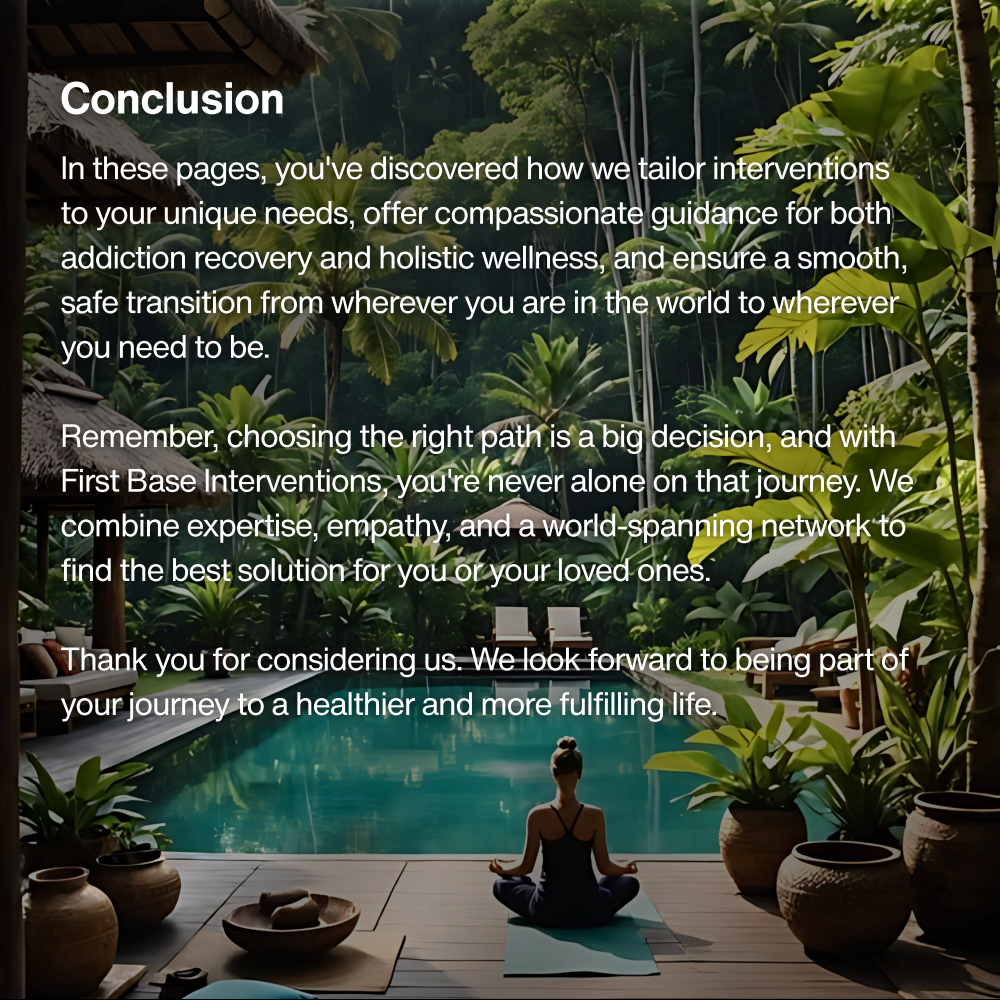

Our approach goes beyond just addiction treatment. We offer a bridge to wellness facilities that specialize in holistic healing. This means we can help you or your loved one transition seamlessly from intervention to a supportive environment that nurtures overall well-being, not just sobriety.

Conclusion

In these pages, you've discovered how we tailor interventions to your unique needs, offer compassionate guidance for both addiction recovery and holistic wellness, and ensure a smooth, safe transition from wherever you are in the world to wherever you need to be.

Remember, choosing the right path is a big decision, and with First Base Interventions, you're never alone on that journey. We combine expertise, empathy, and a world-spanning network to find the best solution for you or your loved ones.

Thank you for considering us. We look forward to being part of your journey to a healthier and more fulfilling life.
